CITY TRUSTEES

A communication from Mr. Overton stated that option of lots has been signed by Mr. Godfrey and the same expires March 1st, 1911. The option did not state where the said lots were located in Glendale or any other place.

The board decided to refer the matter as to whether it was necessary to send out to the voters sample ballots for the coming annexation election, for his opinion. Mr. Elliott, who owned the house in Casa Verdugo that was to be used as a polling place on January 3rd, states that it will be impossible to use that residence, as it has been sold. It was suggested that the city get a tent to take the place of this residence.

A communication was received from W. C. Stone protesting against the noise of the packing house at the corner of Lomita avenue and Glendale. The communication was referred to the committee on public works.

O. E. S. INSTALLATION.

The fifth annual installation of the officers of the Eastern Star Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star was held at the Masonic hall, Thursday evening, Dec. 15. Mrs. Lena W. Standard of Long Beach, Grand Marshal of the state, and Mrs. Mead of Los Angeles, District Deputy Grand Matron, were in charge of the ceremony. The officers installed were: Mrs. Agnes P. Albright, Worthy Matron; Alphonso W. Tower, Worthy Patron; Mrs. Mary O. Ryan, Associate Matron; Mrs. Pearl B. Howe, secretary; Mrs. Cora L. Maxwell, treasurer; Mrs. Luella M. Bullis, conductress; Mrs. Pearl C. Tower, associate conductress; Mrs. Martha J. Miner, Chaplain; Mrs. Mary M. Emery, Marshal; Mrs. Gertrude Johnson, Warbler; Wesley H. Bullis, sentinel; Miss May Farnet, Adah; Mrs. Cora Webster, Ruth; Mrs. Mary E. Martin, Esther; Mrs. Daisy F. Clark, Martha; Mrs. Edith F. Andrews, Electa; Mrs. Josephine Bryant, organist.

At the close of the impressive installation service the following brief out play program was rendered:

Vocal solo, Mrs. Dr. Bryant; violin solo, Julius Kranz; vocal solo, Evelyn Ryan; humorous readings, Mr. Lyons; piano solo, Miss Nellie Brigham.

Mrs. Gibson of the high school faculty was the very delightful accompanist for the musical numbers.

Mrs. Albright, the newly installed Worthy Matron, was then introduced and spoke of the work of the chapter and of her ideals for the year to come. She then presented the retiring matron and patron with beautiful baskets of flowers as a small tribute to their efficiency from the outgoing officers.

On behalf of the chapter Mr. E. U. Emery retiring patron, presented a past matron's pin to Mrs. Margaret McPeak Campbell, retiring matron. Mrs. Campbell responded in her characteristic way. After the usual felicitations on the part of the past matrons and past patrons present the meeting adjourned. Among the visitors present were Mrs. Beebe, past matron of Palm Leaf Chapter, Los Angeles, and Dr. Pierce, past patron of Loyalty Chapter, Los Angeles.

THE "D. D." BUNCH "LYNCHED."

With the usual accompaniment of noise, the "D. D." bunch arrived en masse. This time the arrival took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lynch on Damasco court. Now Mr. and Mrs. Lynch know how to present a warm reception. This they proceeded to do in the most fascinating manner. When every one was made comfortable around the big glowing fire, the evening's entertainment began. It consisted of a progressive guessing game, the object being to determine the names of a peculiarly arranged group of pictures held in your opponent's hands. When the debris had been cleared away Mr. Hunchberger and Mrs. Truscott were found clinging to the highest scores.

The business of the session was then brought in and placed on the dining room table by Mrs. Lynch, ably assisted by her versatile husband. It consisted of numerous dainty cakes, sandwiches, olives and delicious coffee with real "cream." After laboring diligently for several hours it was found impossible to dispose of all the matters that were presented. The club then turned over the remainder of the business to Mr. Lynch with full power to act.

After the business session came the usual literary meeting. The discussion for the evening was on the subject of "Dairies." Mr. Lynch opened the discussion by airing his views on the subject. This was followed by some very scientific remarks by Mr. Tower.

The bunch seemed to like the peace and quiet of the neighborhood and so decided to hold their next meeting in the same vicinity.

CONSOLIDATION

Both Sides Heard From—The Merry
War Goes On

N. C. BURCH OBJECTS.

Asked for a statement of the grounds of his objection to the annexation of Tropic to Glendale, N. C. Burch makes this reply:

"I do not consider the proposed annexation worth while. I do not see that we are suffering for the restraints of Glendale's city government, nor is it apparent to me that we have any great occasion for yearning to get our necks under one end of the municipal yoke the city of Glendale is painfully struggling to bear. I am always moved by signs of distress, and in meritorious cases of tribulation, am ready to contribute my just proportion of relief. But when a wayward person deliberately plunges into the mire with a heavy load, as in the case of the city of Glendale, I feel like letting the 'galled jade wince'."

"Glendale is ambitious for the pinnacle of a city of the fifth class. Within another year her increase of population, at her present rate of growth within her existing municipal limits, will entitle her to occupy that dizzy height. With twenty-six hundred now, 'four hundred' more will boost her to the coveted vantage. Why not be patient, then, and let an honest natural increase do its work, without resorting to an expedition for kidnapping Tropic's famous 'four hundred'?

There is certainly room enough for the three thousand she is so greedy for within her present unextended limits, especially on the east side.

"And this reminds me of a question: If municipal incorporation is such a blessed thing, why has it not visited East Glendale or Verdugo with a share of its blessings? What has done so much to promote the growth of Glendale on her westerly environs is the Pacific Electric railway, and not her vaunted village organization."

"I am told by a distinguished officer of her city government, in explanation of her eagerness to annex Tropic, that Glendale cherishes the fond desire of enriching us with the benefits of her many municipal enterprises—such as electric lighting, street improvements, water supply, drainage and sewage. Of course, the people of Glendale who advocate annexation are entirely unselfish in this."

"But let us see. What is there of these advantages that Tropic does not have in an equal degree of efficiency with Glendale, greater or less?"

"We have electric lighting, from the same source, and against the cost of construction and interest, at a cheaper rate."

"We have our means of street improvement, in no wise inferior to those of Glendale. If anything, they are superior. If we want our streets improved, and have the cash to improve them with, we improve them. We do not burden ourselves with debt for their improvement, nor make the cost of such improvement a lien for the enforcement of which our own or our neighbors' property may be sold. It is not many moons since I saw a string of advertisements in the NEWS of property for sale for street work as assessment. None of the people of Tropic are in a fix of liability of that kind, and I am sure will vote against annexation if they don't want to be much ado is made over the exemption of city property from the county road tax, as though city streets were built without cost and free of assessment. I have yet to learn that any good thing of this world is to be had without money and without price. I do not think the confusion that has been attempted on this point is commendable."

"As to water supply, Tropic is as well equipped as Glendale. In fact, we are in the 'same boat' as to the source of our supply—the Verdugo canyon. If anything, the Tropic Water Company has the largest share of that source of supply."

"As to drainage and sewage, Tropic is able to take care of those matters independent of the kind offices of Glendale, and does not care to be involved with her in questions concerning them. If made a part of the city of Glendale, we might be called upon to serve as the 'natural dumping ground' for the sewage of the community and territory of which we would then be proprietors in common."

"Finally, for a quarter of a century Tropic has maintained its independence as a community of self-governing individuals. It has grown and is growing in population, business and wealth. It is better prepared today to maintain its independence than ever before. It has its own schools, churches and social organizations; its bank, telegraph, telephone, electric light and power facilities; its electric and steam railway, mail and express service, macadamized wagon and automobile roads connecting us with the great city of Los Angeles and the nearby ports and resorts of the Pacific coast; its several mercantile and manufacturing establishments; its several factories and factory sites—its every advantage of situation and equipment that entitle it to a continuation of its individuality, independence and identity in name, and in the management of its affairs in its own way, free from all entangling alliances with mere 'boomers'."

"In loyalty to the town of my residence for nearly a quarter of a century, I am yours for Tropic's integrity and independence."

"N. C. BURCH."

West Glendale, Cal., Dec. 21, 1910.

To the Editor of the NEWS:

The following statement of facts may assist the voter to a better understanding of the arguments that have been used in the present agitation.

First, the water question. It has been intimated that it was the intention of those speaking for annexation to purchase the present water system. Now that would be impossible if it was desirable for the following reason. It is presumed that the present system is worth $1,000,000. The proposed municipality could not bond itself by law for any sum such as this. The law allows a city to bond itself for only 15 per cent of its assessed valuation. To buy the water system the assessed valuation would have to be over six and one-half million dollars. The present valuation is $1,500,000. Under consolidation the assessed valuation would be about $3,500,000. Bonds sufficient for its purchase could not issue as the amount would be about 28.3 per cent of the assessed valuation, or 13.2 per cent more than allowed by law. This and other bond issues mentioned at various times would total up to over $1,600,000, which would be about 46 per cent of the assessed valuation, or 31 per cent more than the law allows.

It is therefore apparent that even did any one desire to buy the system it couldn't be done by law. In addition it would require a two-thirds majority of the voters to carry any bond issue whatsoever.

As to the attitude of the Glendale Valley Improvement Association on this question, the following resolution by Mr. Rudell of West Glendale and adopted unanimously, speaks for itself as follows: "That the water rates be reduced and the water company be compelled to provide proper pipes to carry water and large enough to supply the demand for the new city."

The sewerage question is one which can be dealt with in a few words. The cesspool system will be in vogue in his valley for many years yet to come. When the time comes that there is a necessity for something else every voter will have a chance to determine just what shall be done. A two-thirds majority will also be needed to bond the city for any such expenditure. Many portions of Los Angeles such as Edendale, portions of Boyle Heights and the southwest have cesspools and it will be years before even those sections are seweraged.

The question of location of public buildings has been met by the generally expressed sentiment that they should be centrally situated.

On the proposed extension of the lighting system the facts are these. The annexed districts would not have to pay a cent of the expense of the present plant, while the city of Glendale would have to pay a certain proportion of the increased cost of the extension. The state laws say that no indebted district can be taxed for any indebtedness of the annexing city existing at the time of such union.

No building permits are necessary on structures costing less than $20. On structures costing over this it is well to have some supervision so that surrounding property is not unnecessarily endangered from fire ensuing owing to faulty construction and to ward against any other conditions that might tend to encroach upon the rights of others in the community.

A greater city will be enabled to exercise a better control of the Verdugo Wash, which under its present unbridled condition is a constant menace to a great majority of the residents of this valley. Surely those who are so fortunate as to be free from its actions will not be selfish enough to set back and say it is a matter of indifference to them. The wash itself is a standing reason for the consolidation of this community if there were not many others. Under the county the wash has and will again meander where it pleases. Where it will go next no one knows, or the time of its going.

Now as to proposed street improvements under the municipality, it is a matter of fact that generally speaking no improvements can be made in any block without a majority of the property owners agreeing to same, thus enabling every community to say when, if at all, they will have such improvements.

A word as to how the annexation movement has been financed. Subscriptions have been handed in by people voluntarily from $1 to $10. A total of $111 has been subscribed to date. The books are open at headquarters and all expenditures are on file for any one caring to look at same.

As to possible ordinances which might come up from time to time it is well to remember that the passage of such is in the hands of the people themselves by the workings of the referendum.

What can Glendale do for us in the event of consolidation, is a natural question. It can help us to get what we need, better streets, police and fire protection, cheaper lights, curb the public utility corporations when perchance they add the last straw that tends to break the camel's back.

A vote for annexation is a step forward, a step towards a better community, a more beautiful environment, and a more prosperous people resulting by reason of increased property values which are assured in a district where the energies of the people are all for one and one for all.

The municipality of Greater Glendale would be the fairest gem of the sunny southland in a setting of natural beauty and grandeur that would rival even the famous cities nestling among the towering Alps of Switzerland.

Let "Progress" be our watchword and our motto "E pluribus unum."

WILLIAM J. LACY.

Tropic, Cal., Dec. 19, 1910.

To the Editor of the NEWS:

If permitted to do so, I would like to say a few words in reply to Mr. Watson's letter which appeared in your last issue.

As to the water question. I am perfectly familiar with the decisions of the court and I know that Los Angeles could not if she would, and would not if she could, allow the people of Glendale to go thirsty, but I do not see as that Los Angeles has control of the water situation, not only in Glendale but the whole San Fernando valley.

Mr. Watson alludes to a municipal distributing plant for the Owens river water. I believe that will be the ultimate solution of the water problem, but it will be a municipal plant owned and controlled by the city of Los Angeles and not the city of Glendale.

A great many of the residents of Tropic were formerly shareholders in one or more of the local water companies and most of us saw the wisdom some time ago of getting rid of our interests. We certainly should not wish to buy back these old pipe lines and worn out pumping plants.

As to lighting districts. Just before the election held for the purpose of making Tropic a lighting district, the parties interested in getting the matter through told us that the tax required would be merely nominal, so small that no one would feel it. The election carried and we heard nothing further about the matter until the annexation agitation commenced, when we were told by the same parties that it would require a tax of $1.25 per hundred. It is certainly plain that in either one instance or the other our informants did not know what they were talking about. As two power lines pass directly through our district I cannot understand why it could not be lighted as economically as any other. We would certainly rather pay 60c or even 75c per hundred to light our own streets than to pay $1.25 per hundred to Glendale for municipal purposes, besides 40c or 50c per hundred to extend the Glendale lighting plant so that it could furnish us with light.

As to car fare, Garvanza has had a five cent fare for years as well as most of the older additions. Hollywood has been promised a five-cent fare and it will probably be in operation the first of the year. Tropic will get it in time if she keeps out of Glendale.

The sewage question. I admit it is one that does not require immediate settlement, but its ultimate solution must come through Los Angeles and not through Glendale.

While I still contend that the "Road District Improvement Act" can be advantageously used, I consider the road question one of secondary importance. Those most interested in having street work done have had it done by private contract. Of the others a very large number are not ready for it and in many instances it would work a great hardship if forced upon them at this time.

To my mind our positions are exactly reversed.

Mr. Watson is the drowning man grasping at a straw while we are floating safely on the waves with firm planks beneath us.

WORRY CAUSES SUICIDE.

Worry and extreme nervousness over the fact that he had been summoned to appear as a witness in court were responsible for the death of Walter G. Dobbins, who shot himself at his home on Dryden street near Louise last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Following the shot death was instantaneous. By the facts in the case it will seem that the suicide had been premeditated to some extent.

When the officers went to Mr. Dobbins' home to administer the summons he immediately became deathly white. It was seen at that time by the look in Mr. Dobbins' eyes that he had decided upon something desperate, rather than act as a witness. Immediately upon the departure of the officers he walked slowly to an adjoining room, closed the door, and without haste removed his shoes and hosiery. Then, without a sound which might have drawn the attention of other occupants of the house he took the revolver from the drawer, placed it to his right temple and pressed the trigger. The bullet passed through his brain, and struck the top of his skull with such force that it raised a small portion of the strong framework about half an inch.

Funeral services over the remains of Mr. Dobbins were held from the Pullman Undertaking parlors Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, interment being made at Forest Lawn cemetery.

SOME IMPROVEMENTS MADE.

Quite a number of improvements have been and are now being made in the line of athletics at the Glendale Union high school. Very recently a fine handball court was completed and will soon be put in use by the students.

At the north side of the basketball court are being built two large sets of bleachers. Each of these will be probably ten or twelve seats high and about thirty feet in length.

It seems as though the board of directors of this school were just beginning to realize how many honors its basketball and track teams are bringing to the school, and were trying to repay the youngsters in some measure. The boys have worked faithfully for the school and are deserving of a great deal more in this line than they are getting.

F. W. Juneman and wife of Madison, Neb., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hulff, of 102 Jackson street.

CHRISTMAS WINDOWS.

The Glendale stores are making very fine displays in their windows for the Christmas season. A look around will convince our people that Christmas presents can be bought at home.

OUR SPECIAL EDITION

Has been delayed, but will appear early in January. Advertisers are requested to get their copy in promptly. Owners of residences and business blocks wishing pictures of the same to appear in this edition can make arrangements at the office.

Much as we desire the success of the temperance reform and the abolition of all the evils of drink, we do not believe that wickedness will disappear when men cease to drink alcohol. Some of the worst crimes of passion and calculation are committed by those who do not drink at all; and in Moslem countries, where alcohol is unknown, the standard of virtue is not high. Much as we desire to banish opium and narcotics from common use, because they are even more baneful than alcohol in many cases, we do not believe that wickedness will be abolished when these drugs are no longer used. The excesses which are reported as attending the Thanksgiving dinners at hotels in New York have two applications; the dinners tempted weak people to wicked excesses, but also those who made the dinners occasions for revelling and excess were already weak and willing to be tempted.

AS TO BONDS.

Some of the arguments being made use of against annexation are based upon an idea of the extravagant use of the bonding privilege, which in view of the facts of the case are entirely without foundation. In the first place the law permits the city to bond itself only to the limit of 15 per cent of its assessed valuation, which is now about one and three-quarter millions. In the second place a bond issue must be supported by two-thirds of the voters. Now can any one make it clear how a few individuals however influential, can carry through any scheme by which the people against their will can be compelled to bond their property? And can any one suggest why when two-thirds of the people desire a bonded indebtedness for any purpose they should not be permitted to have it? Is not the wisdom of the two-thirds at least equal to that of the minority? From the standpoint of some of our citizens there are some legitimate objections to annexation, but those based upon the idea of future excessive bond issues, do not belong to this class.

There are two big, brainy men connected with the railroads in this country whose opinions on the condition of affairs are always worthy of consideration. These are D. B. Hill and E. P. Ripley. In an interview the other day the latter expressed himself very plainly in regard to the extravagance among the people of the United States. He is of the opinion that nothing but an era of hard times will cure this condition, a cure which he nor anyone else however wishes to see administered. The high cost of living is due to this extravagance, for our people insist upon having all of the luxuries of life which the present age affords and they are multiplying every day as fast as the inventive genius of man can suggest them. There is much in our present school system which fosters this spirit of extravagance in the young people. Everything is done for them that it is possible to do with money and to some extent it cannot fail to have the effect of inculcating in the young mind ideas which lead far away from the "simple life." The automobile alone has had a demoralizing effect, as every community can point to instances of extravagance through this medium. Our desire grows with what it feeds upon and with our accumulation of the luxuries of the present, grows that insatiable longing for more that adds emphasis to the assertion of President Ripley that it will need a financial set-back to bring our feet back to the earth and make us realize as a people that really after all, the luxuries of the times are not necessary to our happiness.

CHRISTMAS.

"Peace on earth, Good will to men." The text comes down to us untarnished and unchanged through twenty centuries of human life, passing through all the superstitions and errors of this time, with the same universality and power that it first possessed. For it is difficult to imagine a time in the history of the race when the spirit of the Divine in man failed altogether to respond to the appeal for peace and love. In the minds of the most wicked of our kind in all the ages, there must have been something of this spark of love which sometimes prompted the little act of unselfishness, the joy of adding at least a little to the happiness of others. And so the universal application of the winds which the shepherds first heard on the plains of Judea "In the solemn midnight centuries ago."

The beneficent effect of this message and its application particularly at the Christmas time, cannot be overestimated. It comes to us in the midst of our too busy times, our constant effort for personal gain and bids us desist for a while and give some thought to others. And the universal acceptance of the message and the ever growing popularity of Christmas day, argues well for the gradual uplift of the race. At this season there will be much said about the approaching era of universal peace when "War shall be no more." But probably this era is yet remote, for mankind cannot at once forge spears into plowshares and swords into pruning hooks, but must come up by very gradual degrees to the higher plane of existence. The donation of a portion of his millions by Andrew Carnegie to the propagation of the doctrine of universal peace is an interesting incident, but time alone can demonstrate whether it will be of any value to the cause it is intended to promote. Real peace cannot be purchased by dollars and cents; it must emanate from the Divine spark in the heart of man. When the people who comprise the nation of the earth have so changed their natures that they are incapable of jealousy, are not prompted by envy and dominated by the lust for power, when each man prefers his neighbor's welfare to his own, then will come the era of universal peace, but the memory of Andrew Carnegie will have perished from the earth! For in these days more and more day by day it is becoming true that the people rule and war will come through the spirit of the people and not be brought about by those in authority as was once common. In the meanwhile let us thank the Ruler of Nations for the message of Christmas time, the season of giving, of good cheer and the thoughts (which shall to some extent create it) of the Reign of Peace in the hearts of men!

COMMUNICATION.

Editor GLENDALE NEWS, Glendale, Cal.

Dear Sir: With respect to your editorial in your issue of the 9th inst. regarding Mary Baker Eddy, permit me to say that all Mrs. Eddy has done has been a life work of unselfish labor for others. Her whole pathway has been one marked instance after another of self-denial and sacrifice in order that she might place before the whole world the scientific statement of Christianity that its fruitage and demonstration might prove it to be "the comforter which leadeth into all Truth."

Thanking you for space for this brief statement, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

EDWARD W. DICKEY.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 19, 1910.

THE PRESBYTERIAN SUPPER.

The chicken supper given on Friday evening last at the Methodist bungalow by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, was a most successful affair. Many favorable comments were heard regarding both the quality and quantity of the viands served. If there was one present who was not satisfied, he has not been heard of as yet. The members of the society desire to thank all who so generously contributed both time and food, and also the general public for their very liberal patronage.

OUR LIGHTING PLANT.

The Glendale electric light plant is still making meter connections as fast as ever. During November 46 meters were connected, and during the first nineteen days of this month there has been nineteen meters connected, making a total of 581 meters connected to the system at this time. The people of Glendale never made a more satisfactory or profitable move than when they took over the operation of their lighting plant.

J. C. SHERER INJURED.

Mr. J. C. Sherer of the GLENDALE NEWS, by falling from a ladder last Sunday afternoon, broke the thigh bone of his right leg. Mr. Sherer is getting along very comfortably, and thanks the many friends who have shown interest in his condition.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE.

J. C. Sherer.

Oh, the Christmas tree; the Christmas tree! Green are the boughs of the Christmas tree; And wherever I am, on the land, or the sea, There always appears at this season to me The vision bright of a Christmas tree.

I have been in lands where ice and snow Were all around, above and below; But even then I caught the glow, Shimmering over a wintry sea From a distant land and the Christmas tree.

In lands that are scorched by a tropical sun, Where summer and winter are both as one, I have stood on the shore when the day was done And caught the echoes of innocent glees From a far-away land and a Christmas tree.

Wherever I am, in the East or the West, Though distant from home, and the ones I love best, I feel that I am by its memories blest; And over the miles intervening I see The glimmering light of the Christmas tree.

Let the voices of sorrow and mourning cease, And the mourner break forth in a carol of peace; And over each care, like a golden fleece, Fall the halo of love, with its benison free. On the hearts that are cheered by the Christmas tree.

Away with all doubts, all cares and fears— It is not the season for sighs and tears; For down through the nineteen hundred years Comes a voice that is saying to you and to me, "Rejoice, for I gave you the Christmas tree." —From "Christmas Evergreens."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES.

During the past week the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce received a communication from committee of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association inviting Glendale to participate in the tournament New Year's day and stating that a hundred and fifty dollar prize cup will be given to the best decorated float. The chamber of commerce accepted and Glendale is going in for the prize.

Committees have been appointed from the following organizations: Tuesday Afternoon club, Mrs. E. D. Goode, Miss Alice Frank, Miss F. L. Church, Mrs. Alex Mitchell, Chamber of Commerce, E. D. Goode, E. U. Emery, Cecil Shaver, Eugene Frank, R. C. Hinchley and R. A. Blackburn; Valley Improvement Association, F. L. Church, Richard Sternberg, Harry Lynch, and Claude O. Pulliam. Glendale Union High School, Prof. George U. Moyse, Miss Belle N. Hall, L. Howe and Mr. Gates.

At the meeting held Monday evening in the office of Dr. Hurr it was decided that the float should represent the high school. It will be eight feet high and fourteen feet long, containing a seating capacity for sixteen of the high school girls who will wear Grecian costumes, several of the high school boys will act as outriders, and the plans in detail are exceedingly effective as well as artistic.

Miss Hall will superintend the decorating and Mr. Joseph Shropshire will oversee the construction of the frame work.

Special soliciting committees comprise Miss Alice Frank, James Wells, Jr., Owen Emery, Saul Rehart, Granville McClure, Charles Wells, George Mitchell, Ed Krachey, Mrs. Scott Johnson, Mrs. C. O. Pulliam and Mrs. Mary H. Gridley. The float completed will cost about $150.

A meeting of the committees will be held Thursday evening in L. O. O. F. hall.

Following is the letter that was received by the chamber of commerce:

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 6, 1910.
To the Secretary,
Chamber of Commerce,
Glendale, Cal.

Dear Sir: Pasadena gives its twenty-second annual Tournament of Roses January 2, 1911. We are making our plans for what we consider to be California's greatest event, and the only midwinter floral pageant. As you know, Pasadena's annual Tournament has grown to be without exception, the greatest single attraction of the Pacific Coast.

This year's Tournament will excel in grandeur anything Pasadena has ever seen. Believing as we do that a float representing your city will repay your citizens for any effort or expense they may be put to in preparing same, we extend a hearty invitation and request to your Chamber of Commerce to participate in this year's pageant; for which we herewith enclose close blanks.

I might add, apart from the inducement of a valuable silver cup ($150) that we are offering as first prize for the best decorated float representing civic bodies other than Pasadena, we also have recently received a very encouraging letter from the Selig Polyscope Company of Chicago, assuring us of their intention to take every feature of our 1911 parade. As the films will be shown in more than ten thousand moving picture theaters in America and over one thousand in Europe, the advertising feature of this alone is a matter that no town in Southern California can well afford to overlook. Hoping to receive your entry at an early date, I am,

Yours very truly,

PASADENA TOURNAMENT OF ROSES ASSOCIATION.

Wm. Esterbrook, Asst. Secy.

The committee of St. Mark's Guild desire to thank each one who in any way contributed to the bazaar work of December 8th and 9th. All meetings of the Guild will be postponed until after the holiday season, the first regular meeting to be held January 12th, 1911.

Glendale Boys Arrested

A band of juvenile thieves has at last been brought to bay by Glendale officials, after a hunt of about two weeks. The gang includes Wilbur Anderson, 13 years; Frank Butterfield, 13 years; Clifford Chatman, 11 years, and Willie Anderson, 9 years.

The final arrest of the youngsters was brought about by two of them trying to break in the grocery store at the corner of Third and Glendale avenue Wednesday evening. At about 10:30 Jerry Jones and Manager Gray of the Glendale Hotel, saw two forms working at the rear door of the store. Supposing they were men they telephoned to several of the stations where Night Watchmen Everett is to be reached, and located him on Brand boulevard. Mr. Everett hurried up Fourth street and while turning the corner at Fourth and Glendale the light of the car, which was between Third and Fourth streets, shone full on him, and the robbers saw him and started up Third street. Mr. Everett had a suspicion who the robbers were and he at once went to the Anderson home, but the boys had reached there ahead of him.

Early Thursday morning Marshal Miller, after having sufficient proof, went to the homes of the boys and arrested them one at a time. When taken to the city hall they made a full confession.

Operations of the gang commenced about two weeks ago. At that time the moving picture company, which is stationed in Verdugo canyon, reported that they had lost 250 rounds of ammunition. Later 250 more rounds were stolen and the cabin broken into. Since that time the boys have stolen six dollars from Bott's stationery store, one dollar from the market, corner Third and Glendale, two large revolvers from the moving picture company, and many other things. Slowly but surely a web had been wound around the youthful robbers by Mr. Miller, which was finally successful.

Trial of the youngsters was held in the city hall at 1 o'clock and they were held to appear before the Superior court in Los Angeles.

CHILDREN'S PARTY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

The crowning success of the Country Club social season was the annual Christmas party given by the maids and matrons to the children of the club members and their friends.

Part of the afternoon was occupied by a musical program given by the children themselves consisting of an opening number by the high school mandolin club, followed by an instrumental solo by Milton Brown, a recitation by Miss Shirley Chase, a violin solo by Dan Campbell, Jr., a piano duet by Dorothy Brown and Elizabeth Steenberg, an instrumental solo by Earl Brown, an Irish dance by Blythe Monroe, a vocal duet by Hugh and Dean Bryant, a fancy dance by Miss Sarah M. Dean, a recitation by little Barbara Kranz and an instrumental duet by Miss Emma Pulliam and Miss Katherine Lennox.

Election will be held at the next meeting of the Maids and Matrons on the third Monday in January and unusual interest is predicted for the affair.

The Bachelor's Dance will be given New Year's Eve, December 31st, and although the plans are being kept secret, a successful evening is promised.

NEW WINDOW LIGHTING CIRCUITS.

The merchants in Glendale are taking advantage of a new proposition that is being presented to them by Manager Lynch of the electric lighting department for their benefit. This is a plan by which all store fronts can be illuminated during the evening without attention of the storekeepers, and with the assurance that the windows will be on display as long as there is a considerable number of people on the streets.

Separate circuits have been run connecting all of the window lights to a time switch, this switch being operated by a special clock device. This clock turns on all of the lights a little before dusk and keeps them burning during the evening, and until 10 o'clock, at which time it turns them off automatically. The system has been operated only ten days but already more than half of the store fronts are connected to the circuits. The improvement in the appearance of the streets has been very noticeable, the windows on display being

The permanent aviation field at Dominguez, on which the charity aviation corporation has taken a lease for five years, for annual meets is nearing completion, a force of fully 400 men being kept constantly at work on the grandstand, the concession booths administration buildings, hangars and forty thousand feet of wire fencing to keep the crowds off the field.

The prize and program committee has announced that the amount of the prizes to be offered will range in the neighborhood of $25,000. That amount does not include the guarantee fund which will reach $50,000. Besides these prizes a number of extra special prizes will be offered by the cities throughout Southern California. Foremost among these cities is San Diego, the chamber of commerce of which is considering a prize of $5000 for the first aviator to fly from the field to San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hunchberger of Central avenue were host and hostess at a prettily appointed dinner last Wednesday evening. Plates were laid for a number of Los Angeles guests who arrived in automobiles, and the evening was spent joy riding in the moonlight.

Mrs. M. Rehart and Mrs. Preston have joined forces and will hereafter do a general real estate business in the room occupied by the Associated Craftsmen on Fourth street near Brand boulevard. This is the first real estate firm in Glendale composed of ladies.

A pleasant affair this week was the dance given by the Knights of Pythias lodge at their hall on Brand boulevard Monday evening. Quite a number of the leading society people of this place attended and tripped the light fantastic toe until a late hour. Proceeds of the event will go to the lodge.

Mrs. Hannah M. Pratt, formerly a resident here, died at her home in Los Angeles, 1321 Waterlos street, at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, Dec. 11. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, interment being made at Rosedale cemetery. Mrs. Pratt is survived by five sons and four daughters.

The girls of the J. O. C. class of the Methodist Sunday school gave a Christmas party Wednesday evening complimentary to the boys of the Baranca class of the same school. The evening was passed very enjoyable with games and music. The affair was held in the Sunday school room of the church.

Charles Shropshire of the S. S. South Dakota expects to reach Glendale before Christmas. The South Dakota, for the past six weeks has been anchored in San Diego harbor for target practice. On the tenth of January Mr. Shropshire expects to leave on the South Dakota for Honolulu and the Philippines.

Mr. M. J. Collahan spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Williams of North Central Ave. Mr. Collahan is president of one of the largest carriage factories in the United States which is located in Baltimore, and he declares himself so delighted with Glendale that he contemplates making it his future home.

The Presbyterian chicken dinner held last Friday evening was an unqualified success both socially and financially. The committee in charge couldn't begin to meet the demands of the guests, the list of patrons was so large. The fancy work booth in charge of Miss Wilson, Miss Furst and Miss Lyons was very well patronized, the articles for sale there being artistic, useful and reasonable.

Prof. S. E. Coleman, principal of the high school at Oakland, Cal., called at the NEWS office Saturday last in company with his father, S. J. Coleman. Prof. Coleman was renewing acquaintances of twenty-five years ago when he was the one teacher in the first grammar school in this part of the valley. The change in Mr. Coleman in that length of time is as great as that he found in Glendale.

There is a fine display of apples in the window of Shaver's Grocery on Fourth street, from the orchard of Judge Austin at Yakima, Wash., where the judge has some forty-five acres of trees which this year have yielded a thousand boxes to the acre. Notwithstanding the fact that Judge Austin considers apple growing more profitable than raising oranges, he wishes to dispose of his northern orchard and remain permanently in his Glendale home.

The hardware store on San Fernando in the Tropic is now being stocked by Frank B. Kenney and will be opened by January 1st. This gentleman has also leased the store room adjoining and will have that stocked and ready for business by the first of the year and a first-class furniture store.

Mr. Marek and family moved into the new possession Wednesday. A lot on Glendale avenue from Mrs. F. E. Peters to Mr. Erskine for $750. Mr. Erskine will build at once a temporary home on the property.

Traffic was blocked along Central avenue Wednesday on account of the Tropic Water company having to lower its pipes which run at right angles to the road. The pipes lowered this week were between Cypress and Park avenue. The good road improvement along this street is progressing rapidly. Already the grading has almost been completed and it will not be a great while before the arrival of the rock.

The young ladies will also attend a trip up Mt. Wilson which will be held by all of the Stanford students in this part of the country. Miss Richardson and Miss Gillis will return to the university about the first of the year, but Miss Stone has completed her post-graduate course and will not return.

MISS ELSA SCHROEDER SURPRISED.

Miss Elsa Schroeder, a well-known young lady of Tropic, was very pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening by a number of her friends who had responded to invitations sent out by Clyde Sinclair. The party, which numbered about twenty-five, gathered at the corner of Ninth street and Brand boulevard. They hid behind the small real estate office on that corner and when Miss Schroeder was passing in company with Mr. Sinclair they sprang out before them. After the effects of the surprise had disappeared the party continued on to the G. A. R. hall, where the evening was passed in games and music.

SOME VALUABLE DOGS POISONED.

During the past week some of the most valuable dogs in Tropic have been killed by poison, which, it is believed, was distributed around the streets in the vacant lots by some one. Some of the dastardly work was discovered as early as Monday morning but it was not until Tuesday night and Wednesday morning that the most valuable of the dogs was found to have taken any of the deadly stuff.

A fine big thoroughbred collie belonging to Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., at the corner of Tropic avenue and Central avenue, was stricken Tuesday night. Mrs. Harvey worked over the animal for several hours, but it was impossible to save her. Quite a number of other dogs have been given poison. Some of these have been saved, while others have been too far gone when the effects of the poison was discovered.

This is not the first time that a spell of this dog poisoning has been experienced here. There are some people who are low enough for most anything. And the meanest part of the whole affair is that the miscreants seem to pick out the finest dogs in the neighborhood to slay. It would not be so bad if they were to pick out the animals which are a nuisance to the community, but it is no joke when an animal worth over a hundred dollars is given a bundle of this stuff. A thorough investigation is being made to find the offenders and if found they will be severely punished.

Christian Lady Goes to Her Reward

AUBURN, Neb., Dec. 20.—Mrs. H. Goodsell, wife of Rev. H. Goodsell, of Los Angeles, died here last night fifteen minutes after her father, Rev. Charles H. Savidge, passed away. The body will be taken to Los Angeles for interment.

Mrs. Goodsell came to Auburn four months ago to nurse her father and mother, both of whom were very sick. The mother died two months ago and the father followed last night. Mrs. Goodsell was taken sick last week and sent to a local hospital, where she died.

The above telegram was received Wednesday morning, and is self explanatory.

For the past few years Rev. H. Goodsell and family have been residents of Tropic, residing on Palmer avenue, where they own a home. When they went east four months ago the Goodsell home was rented.

Mrs. Goodsell has been active in religious work in the Methodist church in this section ever since arriving in Tropic. For some time after her arrival she was a teacher in the Methodist Sunday school of this place. She was a member of the Tropic church, as are Mr. Goodsell, and her son and daughter, Joy and Julia.

During the past year Rev. Mr. Goodsell was pastor of the Edendale Methodist church, and was assisted in the work there by his faithful wife and children.

Mrs. Goodsell was a consistent Christian. She possessed the kind of Christianity that lasts during seven days in the week. She was loving and cheerful at all times. Wherever she went people loved and honored her for her true worth. And now that her mission on earth is ended and she has been called to the life beyond, surely her reward will be great.

Tropic people will long remember Mrs. Goodsell, and will mourn for her. We extend sincere sympathy to those of her family who are left.

WEST GLENDALE

Howard Elliott entertained his friend, Chas. Decker of Huntington Beach, Thursday.

Mrs. R. W. Hammond, 1509 Ivy street, is entertaining her friend, Miss Bertha Neff, who will remain until after the holidays.

Mrs. C. E. Clay entertained the following friends on Saturday and Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hartshorn of Farmington, Mo., and Mrs. J. Haynes and little daughter of Los Angeles.

Never mind Allen, if at first you don't succeed, try, try again, and maybe the turkey that you didn't get last week will come your way on Saturday, Dec. 24th. Brace up!

The many friends of Mrs. Warren Story will be pleased to know that she is rapidly recovering from a very critical operation performed by Dr. Thompson at his hospital in Burbank on Friday of last week.

The New England supper and bazaar that was given on Thursday of last week at the new M. E. church was an entire success. The Sunday school room was fitted up as a dining room for the evening, and the three long tables with their snowy cloths and set with beautiful dishes and silverware, were filled with hungry people from the time of "first call" for supper in the dining room, until everybody was obliged to retire, simply for the lack of space wherewith to put away another bite of that delicious brown bread and beans, or the salad, pumpkin pie and stores of goodies that the Ladies' Aid provided. Over thirty dollars was taken in at the dining room alone, the remainder of the sixty-eight dollars being the proceeds of the different booths, all of which made a beautiful display. The fish pond was a drawing card to both old and young and many a sucker was caught—guess on which end of the pole?

The spirit of giving rather than receiving certainly prevailed among the scholars of the West Glendale school on Friday last when their Xmas exercises were held. The manger which was about 5 feet in length, 3 feet in depth, and about 2 feet wide, was overflowing with gifts of every description, among them were gifts of the substantial class, such as clothing, underwear, etc. Many a sacrifice was made by the children, but it was forgotten and the gifts were deposited in the manger with an exceptional amount of cheerfulness—which would be a lesson to many an older person. After the first of the year, a large box of clothing will be sent in by the Parent-Teachers' association to the Chamber of Commerce to be distributed among the poor of that city. The toys, etc., that were donated by the children on Friday last were sent to the chamber of commerce on Tuesday, turned over to the Parent Teachers of Los Angeles and distributed as seen fit. Providence and the weather permitting, the children of this school will hold one of the most unique Christmas exercises that has ever been held in Southern California—something that will open their eyes in wonder, and wish they were here to join in the fun and frolic. After the children showing the kind of spirit that was shown this Christmas, they certainly deserve a treat.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dobbins and family wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to their many friends and neighbors who have been so kind to them in their recent bereavement.

W. C. T. U.

For the new members and all members, husbands, wives and friends of the W. C. T. U., a social will be held Friday evening, Dec. 30, at the home of Mrs. Julia R. Beers, 309 Belmont street. Come prepared to give a hearty suggestion for the New Year's as part of a spicy program.

OFFICERS TO BE INSTALLED.

Unity Lodge F. & A. M. will hold its installation of officers in the Masonic hall on Brand boulevard during the first week in January. Dana Weller, Most Worshipful Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge of California, will be installing officer on this occasion. The following officers will be elected: Worshipful Master, Ruben Zinn Imler; Senior Warden, Wilbur W. McFadden; Junior Warden, John Hobbs; treasurer, Asa V. Fausett; secretary, Alphonso W. Tower; chaplain, Rev. J. H. Henry; Senior Deacon, Richard Clarke Sternberg; Junior Deacon, E. J. Morgan; marshal, A. M. Chase; Tyler, Jesse S. Stine; stewards, H. P. Coker and Allen Lincoln Bryant.

TO CELEBRATE TUNNEL OPENING.

There was an automobile show along San Fernando road between 9:30 and 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning. More than a hundred autos passed through on their way from Los Angeles to Newhall, where the dedication of the new tunnel took place about 11 o'clock the same morning. There were machines of every size, make and color. Some that sounded like a threshing machine and some that could hardly be heard as they passed. Each of the machines were decorated with yellow banners bearing the words "Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce," under whose auspices the excursion and dedication was held; and white banners bearing the words "Good Roads." After the dedicatory services which were in charge of some Los Angeles officials, the entire party adjourned to a large ranch near Lankershim, where a good old-fashioned barbecue was held. Quite a number of the automobile owners from this place were among the "bunch," and say that they experienced a most delightful time. They say there's nothing to that Newhall grade now.

Only one more day before Christmas, but it will be a long one at

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Tropic, Tropic, Cal., will be held at the banking house, corner San Fernando road and Central avenue, on Tuesday, January 10, 1911, at 3:30 p. m., for the election of directors and the transaction of such other business as may be brought before them. Dan Campbell, Pres.

In the game of basketball played between the teams from the Glendale and Whittier high school the score resulted in a tie, 26 to 26. On account of an error it was thought that the game was won by Glendale, but some time after the game it was found that one point which had been awarded to the Whittier boys because of a foul made by a Glendale player, had not been counted. This will necessitate the playing of the game over again to decide the championship of the suburban high school league of this county. The game will probably be played before the close of this week and it is very probable that it will take place at the same court as the first game, at Occidental college.

Miss Harriet Wells was a dinner guest of Mrs. Frank Edwards Thursday evening at Hotel Mount Washington.
